

Abstract

The Doppler spread of a received signal is estimated from the derivative of the path transfer function envelope for the received signal. The estimated Doppler spread is 5 used to estimate the speed of a mobile station.